Installation Report

Many of my clients want to install themselves, but are concerned with breaking wall, or do not have the specific tools, or both. So I have installed systems with special arrangement with the owner. They can be involved to the degree they want. Sometimes just be available to help our installer pull a wire between floors, or to work full time for the duration of the project. As you can guess, this reduces the labor costs, and teaches the client new tricks in home wiring.

This was the case for Chris and Rita. They had the audio equipment but needed the accessories and a little help and experience with the work. So, Chris and I spent the day mounting the TV, and running all the cables from the equipment to the TV and speakers. The result is illustrated. True to form, Avatar is displayed. Some detail may be lost in the small picture.

Sara's report:

Thank you so much, Marc, for our new sound system. What a great Father's day gift! My husband is even more excited about football season (if that is even possible) now that he has the surround sound system installed. He really enjoyed you taking him step by step through the installation process. He really learned a lot. My favorite part of course was how you were able to blend the speakers into my décor. They are pretty much invisible. Thank you especially for that. You are the best. I would recommend you to any and everyone!
